FREE RANGE TURKEY

Our free range turkey comes from two suppliers. The first is Chris & David Hunt from Watergate Farm, Hockcliffe. Watergate Farm is family run and has been rearing turkeys for over 70 years. They believe good, locally produced food is becoming ever more important. As producers they feel that buying direct from local butchers and farmers is the best way of obtaining a high quality product.

The second producer is Southalls Farm, Great Barford. The Southall family have been producing free range turkeys for many years and are dedicated to high standards of animal welfare. They believe the happier the bird, the tastier the meat they will produce.
